St. Louis School Profile

St. Louis school in the city of Medicine Hat is in an area known as the Flats. The school is the hub of specialized programs servicing students with a wide variety of educational and behavioral needs. At the center of all of our specialized programs is a dedicated staff of paraprofessionals, teachers, and other support workers who model Christ in all that they do. Starting with our youngest learners, our kindergarten and grade 1 programs typically have 50% of the students involved in specialized programs to assist them with their educational delays. Students in grades two to five experiencing moderate delays in math and language arts are able to access our full pull-out resource program. Students with more severe academic delays and challenges benefit greatly from our Learning Assistance Program. The combination of a small class size and an individualized academic program allows students to progress at their own level and pace creating a positive and worthwhile educational experience. A strong academic commitment to language arts and mathematics, a solid behavioral plan, and an outstanding staff who use Christ as their guide has made St. Louis School a center of caring for the one hundred and seventeen students and their families in our community.

Outcomes

The education system meets the needs of all K-12 students, society and the economy. Children at risk have their needs addressed through effective programs and supports. Students demonstrate high standards

School Goal 2: To continue to improve the learning and retention of math skills, concepts, and knowledge through the frequent monitoring of student success. As well, we will continue to focus on language skills to ensure we help them become successful in the world.

A. Main Strategy – AISI Project – Assessment for Learning -Creation of weekly math assessments

Using the knowledge gained

- a. During our previous Math AISI project - Key essential learnings (to be continued).
- b. Math Steps Program- a new program to be used as intervention for our students that are in need of extra help in certain stands.
- c. Purchased the Senteo program to assist with immediate assessment.

Teachers continue to use weekly math assessments that;

- i. model the Math for Success system – continuous repetitive assessment
- ii. utilize common assessment built on the Braybrook – math system
- iii. Identify in detail new concepts (essential learnings) while reinforcing mastery of previous skills and knowledge.

B. Main Strategy- Use ideas from Focus by Mike Schmoker

- a. All teachers where given the book Focus by Mike Schmoker
- b. Concentrate on reading as a major focus of every subject.
- c. Implement daily reading in each class.

Frequent Monitoring of Student Progress - Student progress is monitored frequently using a variety of assessment methods. The results are used to inform instruction and improve learning outcomes. School learning results are used to determine adjustments that may be necessary for continued growth in student achievement.

Assessment for learning will be instrumental in our school’s three year plan. Our school goals to improve math results through the creation of assessment for learning tools and the detailed use of our EBS system to directly link, monitor, and adapt IPP goals to data collection all connect to the main effective school correlates centering on mapping curriculum, frequent monitoring of progress, and recognition of essential learning.

School Goal 3 – By improving the social and emotional behaviours of students we will more effectively address the educational needs of our high risk students.

Main Strategy- Continue to use EBS (Effective Behavioural Support) forms that will be linked directly to students IPP (Individual Program Plans).

Teachers have

- a. Worked with paraprofessionals to identify specific behaviours seen in our more severely coded students (code 40's) – FAS(Fetal Alcohol Syndrome), ODD(Oppositional Defiant Disorder), ADHD (Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder) ASD (Autism Spectrum Disorder)
- b. Meet weekly with paraprofessionals to evaluate data collection
- c. Meet weekly with paraprofessionals to evaluate IPP goals based on data collected
- d. Use data collected on EBS sheets to reinforce IPP plan and communicate programming concerns with parents during the three scheduled interview times as well as other times deemed necessary
- e. created the specific EBS tracking sheets used for the severely coded students
- f. created the corresponding Excel spreadsheet with appropriate formulas.
- g. In-serviced paraprofessionals to ensure understanding of theory behind the use of the sheets, their role, and the connection to IPP development.
- h. Introduce spirit wear to increase community/school pride.

Secretary does

- i. Inputs data collected from forms
- j. print off the necessary charts, graphs, and tables needed for parent/specialist/ support staff meetings.

Socio-economic conditions, specialized programs, and staffing expertise contribute to a school profile with a higher percentage of challenging behavioural students. In order to ensure a positive educational experience for all, effective monitoring, evaluating, and behavioural planning for our more demanding students is necessary. Our school team consisting of our Turning Points staff, teachers, and all of our support staff will be involved in continuing to use Effective Behavioural Support.

Parent Council Participation

Our parent council is made up of four members (two of which are staff members at the school). Communication and participation was quite easy since they are involved 100% in the planning process. The three remaining parents on the committee, who were not staff members, were included as much as possible in the process. In September, our parent council was informed about the general plan for the school. Parent council was given an opportunity to be included in the process through discussion and input. The parent council reacted quite positively about the plan that was proposed. In October, the more finalized school plan was presented to the new parent council. Again they were quite supportive about the plan and how it would positively affect the level of education received by the students at our school.
